Immigration Cases Xhafer DEVA, Albanian; Maria MOGIIA
nee DAIU, and Daughter Michelina MOGIIA, Romanians.

A. Xhafer DEVA

1. In late December 1955-early January 1956, DEVA underwent routine interrogation at the United States Consulate General in Naples in connection with hoped-for emigration to the United States. Among his interrogators was Edward J. BOUCHER of the Special Investigations Office of Naples I.R.F.
2. During the course of interrogation, DEVA submitted material concerning his movements and places of residence, as shown in Attachment #1 hereto. This material is identical with that included in his Preliminary Questionnaire and with that presented by the American Polish War Relief of Home to the Naples Consulate General on 28 September 1955 for pre-assurance processing.
3. Unwilling, and apparently congenitally unable to lie, DEVA freely admitted during the course of his Naples interrogation that Attachment #1 material as submitted, though correct, does not cover certain other movements which he made on behalf of principals whom, he stated, he was not at liberty to identify, just as he could not furnish details concerning those movements "without authorization". DEVA's position was apparently understood and appreciated by his Consulate interrogators, but he was given to understand that the Consulate would appreciate receiving some kind of reassurance in the matter.
4. In the hope that ☐ will be able to satisfy the Naples Consulate General on this score, it is hereby pointed out that DEVA is a long-time contact and collaborator of this Station, who has always acted in complete honesty and good faith; he has collaborated with Italian services in undertakings which he considers useful in the anti-Communist framework, but has consistently refused to act as a paid agent either for them or for us; we are fully informed concerning itineraries and purposes of movements which he has not listed, and which consist of a few trips to Bari, Austria, two to Turkey and one to Egypt.

5. DEVA is personally well known to the writer who has no doubt concerning his sincere intentions and ability to drop all political activities and to become a creditable citizen of the United States if he succeeds in emigrating to that country.

B. Lucia MOCCIA nee MAGNI;
Michalina MOCCIA

6. Forwarded herewith as Attachments #2 and #3 are two items from Source [] The first is a report on the current situation and attitude of Mrs. Michalina MOCCIA [] The second is the Italian translation of a curriculum vitae prepared by MOCCIA's mother, Mrs. Lucia MOCCIA nee MAGNI.
7. From these attachments it will be seen that Michalina MOCCIA has succeeded in obtaining an immigration visa to the United States from the Consulate General in Naples, whereas the mother has been unsuccessful owing to a technicality. Of Roumanian origin, Mrs. MOCCIA came to Italy as the wife of an Italian subject who has since abandoned her. Because of her technical Italian citizenship she is apparently unable to qualify for immigration as an escapee; and because of her ethnic origin she apparently does not qualify under regulations governing immigration of Italian subjects.
8. Any aid the [] could give in obtaining the Consulate General's favorable review of this deserving case would be most useful []
